Chairman Terms Revelries Dance Highly Successful

Saturday night's Revelries dance was rated a success by all who attended, Betty Brisbin, chairman of the Social Affairs committee, reported.

Wally Heider's orchestra did a grand job on the music, the committee chairman added.

She expressed her appreciation of the work done by the committees on the dance.

Committee chairmen were: Barbara Rodenborn, decorations; Duke Deras, entertainment; Joan O'Neil, patrons; and Pat Gardiner, police.

Hoover Grandson In Near Crack-up

MENLO PARK, Cal. (UP)—Herbert Hoover III, 21, grandson of the former president, was arrested here Friday for speeding after his auto almost crashed into a new police car.

Officer Gilbert Pitkin said young Hoover, a student at Menlo junior college, was driving about 45 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone.

'Jardin du Soir' Prom To Feature Garden Motif

Decorations for the Junior Prom, "Jardin du Soir," will follow the evening garden theme, according to George Buehring, chairman of the Prom.

Trees, bushes and flowers will adorn the Civic auditorium, March 5, where Phil Bovero and his KGO Studio orchestra will play for the semi-formally dressed dancers, Buehring said.

Trellises covered with vines, benches scattered among the trees, a sun dial, and old fashioned garden lights will add to the French garden atmosphere of the Prom.

Maidenhair fern will cover the ceiling with lights shining up on it giving the room an evening light. A fish pond with a waterfall will be below the stage.

George Buehring emphasizes that the dance will be open to students from any of the classes. "It is not limited to just juniors," he said.

Bids for "Jardin du Soir" are on sale in the Library arch from 10:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. every day. They are also being sold by junior council members. The blue and silver bids are $2.50.

Moreau To Speak On Congress, UN At IR Club Meet

Marty Moreau, San Jose State college junior, will discuss Congressional and United Nations personalities and their influence on present day affairs at the International Relations club meeting today, according to Dr. George G. Bruntz, adviser for the group.

Moreau last year was one of 40 California students who flew to Washington, D.C., to watch Congress in action.

While in the East, he attended meetings of the United Nations at Lake Success.

In 1945 he was the youngest member of the reception committee at the San Francisco conference of the United Nations.

The meeting will be held in room 107 at 3:30 today. Guests are welcome, Dr. Bruntz said.

Juan Ameglio, newly elected president, will conduct a business meeting following the talk.

Other newly elected officers are Bob Martin, vice-president; and Elinor Nelson, secretary-treasurer.

Cage Champs Drub SBS; NAIB Playoff Next Up

By HAL SOUZA

A sensational band of Spartan hoopsters qualified for a NAIB regional playoff berth by virtue of a convincing 55-32 win over Santa Barbara State in the home finale Saturday night before a capacity crowd in Spartan gym.

It was also sweet revenge for feat on the OCAA champion's conference record. The winner of the Pepperdine-Loyola clash tonight will meet the McPhersonmen on Wednesday in Los Angeles to determine an entry in the NAIB tourney in Kansas City.

Santa Barbara opened the scoring on a 30-footer by Quentin Simms and enjoyed a 6-6 tie after four minutes of play. But, it was soon a different story as the Spartans continued to pull away from the visitors to hold a 26-20 edge at the intermission.

The spirited San Joseans returned to the hardwood determined to run the Gauchos out of the gym. Brilliant shooting by Bob Wuesthoff, Don McCaslin, and Bob Hagen upped the margin to 35-21 after four minutes into the second period.

Ball-hawking Spartans tightened their defense and threw up a wall the Gauchos couldn't penetrate. Santa Barbara scored only four field goals after the white-clad San Jose five settled down. Brilliant Stu Inman, Bob Enzenberger, and Bob Wuesthoff were defensive demons, blocking shots and controlling the boards.

A sparkling shooting display by diminutive Bob Crowe, "the people's choice," drew the plaudits of the fans. In a space of 70 seconds, the former Compton ace scorched the net for seven tallies to end up with nine points for his evening's work.

Harville To Speak To Stanford Club

Mr. John Harville, biology instructor, will speak before the Stanford Natural History club Thursday, March 3, Science department officials announced Friday.

Mr. Harville is well qualified to speak on field work in high altitudes, having worked on the staff of the National Audubon society field school at Norden last summer, according to Dr. Carl Duncan, acting Science department head.

Faculty Members Wendt from Bad To Worse in Cafeteria Incident

It's an advantage for the director of the cafeteria to be good natured, but sometimes she pays and pays.

The following episode happened in the faculty lunch room Friday during the noon hour, and would seem to indicate that the faculty takes delight in teasing Mrs. Fern Wendt, director of the cafeteria.

Dean of Women Helen Dimmick picked up her roll to butter it, she commented that it felt unusually hard. Dr. William Sweeney took it from her to pass around, loudly calling for Mrs. Wendt, now quite

Double-Size 'Daily' Makes Debut With Tomorrow's Issue

The Spartan Daily will sport a "new look" beginning with tomorrow's issue.

The new, double-size Daily, eight columns wide, will be largest in the history of the college. It will be an experimental project for the remainder of the quarter, simulating problems and proportions of "big brother" city publications.

For an idea of actual size of the new paper, open this copy of the Daily, holding it so the front page becomes the top half of a large "page one". There will be four pages of this size in the new Daily.

See you tomorrow with the "new look"—and we hope you like it!

George Link Elected New Senior President

By GEORGE STRATTON

George Link was elected president of the senior class in the voting Friday. Link obtained a substantial majority over his opponent, Bob Barmettler. Approximately 750 votes were cast in the elections.

Other results in the senior class include Bill Swasey winning the vice-presidential job over Dick Mitchell, Joan Polek defeating Bobbie Rodenborn for treasurer, and Rhoda Anderson beating out Jean Glines for representative to the Student Council. Glenna Shaw, running unopposed, was elected secretary.

All amendments to the constitution passed conclusively.

There will be run-off elections for eight positions Wednesday, March 2. In the race of junior justices, in the women's division, Audrey Auerbach and Angie Pannelli will run again, as will Dean Price and James Taylor in the men's division. Dolores Skocko, Ray Bowdle, and M. J. Wadleigh were eliminated.

Junior Runoff Needed

In the junior class elections, there will be a run-off in the presidential race between Carl Holmberg and Bill Dunlavy. Alyce Leonard lost out. Also, in the race for junior representative to the Council, Barbara Barr and Jack Passey will have a runoff. They eliminated Bud Jenvey and Les Penterman.

The closest race of the voting found Joanne O'Neil defeating Marian Bell for the position of junior class secretary. A run-off between Bill Hennessy and Ramona Hicks will be necessary in the junior class vice-presidential race. Dorothy Ellis was unanimously elected treasurer of the class.

The balloting in the sophomore class was quite one-sided, except in the vice-presidential race, where Charles Abildgaard and Joan Michell eliminated Peter Chivilleri and Mildred Walls.

Abildgaard vs. Michell

Abildgaard and Michell will be in the run-offs Wednesday. Other sophomore results find Bob Madson elected president over Lawton Rogers, Pat MacFadden defeating Dorothy Johnson and Beverly Ricketts for the secretarial position, Joan Beeler beating Bill McNeeley in the race for class treasurer, and Dave Down winning out over Stewart McCullough and

Profile Quiz Offers Ducats

A second chance for brain-strain plus two more free tickets to "Right You Are" are being offered to the person who can identify the name of "Miss Who, No. 2" the Speech office said Friday.

"Miss Who, No. 2" is pictured on various posters throughout the campus. She is a well known coed at San Jose State college, the Speech office revealed.

The contest is being sponsored in conjunction with the Speech and Drama department's forthcoming production of "Right You Are, (If You Think You Are)" by the Italian dramatist, Luigi Pirandello.

First Winner Revealed

Last week's winner of two free ducats to "Right You Are" was Ardith Totten, who correctly identified a photo as Pat Friar.

First person to guess correctly the name of "Miss Who, No. 2" will receive two free tickets to the play. Anyone who thinks he knows the identity of the lovely young Miss should place his guess with the Speech office.

Johnny Melendes for representative to the Student Council.

Balloting in the freshman class was not as spirited as in the others. In the race for Council representative for the one-year term, Tom Harney and Dick Russo beat out Carolyn Hafley, Barbara Kinist, and Merri Sauble. They will compete in the run-offs Wednesday.

In the half-year term race, Dick Kelly and Gerry Lopes eliminated Marilyn A. King and Joanne Packard, and will stand for election again Wednesday.

Student Police Add 3 New Corporals To Campus Force

Chester J. Miller, student police chief, announced Thursday the appointment of three new corporals.

The new non-coms are Robert L. Tobin, San Jose; Rudolph Valenti, Redwood City; and Warren Ramey, Bakersfield.

The new corporals, in training to become sergeants, will assist in clerical duties.

Sergeants appointed earlier this quarter are Murl Tullis, Bakersfield; Lloyd Luther, Yuba City; and Stan Lobodinski, East Chicago, Ind. The sergeants are in charge of the three student police platoons.

Miller said the appointees will hold their positions the rest of the school year.

She will address the cabinet of the Student Y after a supper meeting to be held at the Grace Baptist church at 5:30 p.m.

The reporter returned from an interview. "Well," said the editor, "what did Mr. Benzal say?" "Nothing." "Well, then, keep it down to a column."

Curtain Drops On Revelries' Four Day Run

By VERN BAKER

The show is over, the curtain is down, and all that remains of the 1949 production of Spartan Revelries is a memory and the whistling of some of the tunes on the lips of those who saw the show.

All this sounds a little romantic to those who had no connection with Revelries, but to the cast and all those students whose work went into the production it is more like the truth.

"How's It Goin'," however, was, according to most opinion, one of the best productions of Spartan Revelries to be staged at San Jose State.

Show Called Success

There were a few minor difficulties, but considering the sparkling satire, fine music, and the entertaining specialty acts, the show as a whole was a great success. "How's It Goin'" is indeed something for which Director Ray Bishop should be congratulated.

Most memorable in the performance were Jim Borba, Lorraine Leonetti, Jack Brassill, Joe Rosenberg, Bill Gillis, Wayne Mitchell, Marv Braunstien, Woody Lynn, Joe Genrella, Joe Juliano, Greta Cannon, Jim Veteran, and a whole cast of fine actors.

Tunes Outstanding

Most outstanding tunes were "It's Heaven" by Jim Veteran; "Yesterday's Hit Parade" by Don McCaslin; and "Valley San Lorenzo" by Jim Veteran.

San Jose State college should be proud of the talent that went into one of best student shows yet produced on this campus.

New WAA Officers Take Over Duties

Leta Walters, junior physical education major, has been elected to serve as president of WAA for the school year 1949-50, according to results of the election held Wednesday and Thursday.

Music Department Reveals A Capella, Band Concerts On Spring Calendar Program

Plans are forming in the Music department. On the coming musical calendar is the a cappella choir annual concert March 8, the symphonic band annual concert March 13, and the annual festival of American music by the Symphony orchestra March 15.

The a cappella choir concert will be given at 8:15 in the Morris Dailey auditorium, according to Director William Erlendson.

The choir is composed of 65 student singers under Erlendson's direction. It has established a high standard of musical excellence. Wesley Walton, baritone, will appear as soloist with the choir in one composition.

The band concert will be given at 3 p.m. in the Morris Dailey auditorium. The band will be directed by Forrest Baird and will present a varied program of classical and popular numbers.

Music Festival

Soloist will be S. Ross Bergantz, trombonist. One feature of the program will be the appearance of the clarinet section in Weber's Concertino for Clarinet.

Annual festival of American music was presented for the first time last year, and Dr. Lyle Downey, head of Music department, hopes to present such an event (devoted entirely to music by American composers) each year.

The Festival, to be given in the Morris Dailey auditorium, will feature as soloist Miss Dolores O'Neil of Sacramento, who will be heard in Jules Conus' Concerto for violin and orchestra.

The Festival program will also include "Old California", by William Grant Still, the first movement of Roy Harris' Symphony No. 3, and the first movement of the Symphony No. 2 by Nikola L. Ovanin.

Health Insurance is Topic For SJ State Student Forum

Panel members of the Quarterly Student forum, "Campus Meeting," sponsored by the Speech department, will present different points of view on "Health Insurance" at 8 Tuesday night in the Morris Dailey auditorium. Dr. L. W. Mouat of the Speech department said yesterday. The panel will discuss questions such as the following: If you had a major illness in your family, would you have to pay for it? Should you pay for it? Should your government pay for it?

These questions demand an immediate answer today, Dr. Mouat said. Answers are forthcoming from the Federal government, from the State government, and from the American Medical association. Members of the audience may decide the best answer for themselves.

Facts and figures in support of various sides of this controversy have come from U. S. Senator Murray of Montana, who is the sponsor of the Federal bill, State Senator Salzman, sponsor of the State bill, Mr. Joseph Donovan, secretary of the Santa Clara Medical association, and many others, Dr. Mouat said.

Police Increase Parking Pickups

San Jose city police have intensified efforts in ticketing cars parked on the streets overnight.

Dean of Men Paul M. Pitman received word from the authorities Friday that several Spartan students were cited last week. Dean Pitman admonished car owners that a visit to the city hall and an application for an overnight parking permit will save students from a $2 fine.

Faculty Wife Is Author of Book

"Higgledy Piddedy Room", a children's book written by Mrs. Elizabeth Ryan, has been published by the Shady Hill press of New York City.

SJS Clinch 2C2A Title; Defeat COP

The San Jose State Spartans clinched their second consecutive California Collegiate Athletic Association hoop title, when they whipped a stubborn, but undermanned, College of Pacific five, 52-38, Friday night in the Spartan gym. The victory made it two straight this season over the Bengals from Stockton for the Spartans.

In their previous outing the Men from Sparta copped a close, 52-51, win.

The contest was a personal scoring duel between San Jose's forward, Don McCaslin, and COP's Bill Wirt, forward. Both led their respective teams in scoring. McCaslin took high point honors with 21 markers, while Wirt hit 16.

SJS Lead Throughout

The Spartans led throughout the contest with the exception for the opening minutes of the contest. The score was tied 2 to 2 with two minutes gone, when a free throw by Wirt put them ahead, 3 to 2. A half minute later a lay-up by McCaslin put the Spartans out in front and they were never headed.

COP made a determined bid for the lead in the second half when they crept to within two points of the Spartans, 29-27. But a 30 ft. shot from the sidelines by Iggy Enzensperger widened the margin. Then two buckets by McCaslin and one by center Stu Inman broke the backs of the Tigers and they never threatened seriously thereafter.

The Bengals managed to creep within four points of the Spartans with seven minutes remaining, 37-33, but McCaslin again widened the locals lead with a lay-up shot.

The contest was raggedly played throughout on the part of both teams. Though the backboard work of Inman for the Spartans sparkled.

Spartans Lead at Half

At the end of the first half the Spartans left the floor with a 24-14 lead. Stu Inman scored 10 points for the San Jose quintet.

Sportraits

By WADE WILSON

Can't help but bring to the public eye the statement that IRA BLUE, well known Bay Area sports caster and an authority on professional boxing, made in relation to the headguard worn by collegiate boxers.

It seems as if BLUE is a bit misinformed in the practical use of this equipment. He made the statement that it didn't keep the participants from cuts and gashes about the eye and head. If worn properly, this headguard WILL reduce injuries of this kind.

Dr. W. J. BLECKWENN, M.D., Chairman of the National Intercollegiate Boxing Rules Committee, made this statement recently in regards to the headguard: "In over 150 bouts we have not had an eye injury or have we had to stop a bout because of a head injury."

Wisconsin, host for the National Intercollegiate Boxing championships, will use the headguard in these bouts. It is of optional use this year, but will probably be mandatory next year. It is already mandatory in high school bouts.

But, back to BLUE, in referring to this headguard, he was rehashing the San Francisco State-Santa Clara matches of last Saturday night and from what I hear (from Coach BOB WEBBER of Santa Clara) the referee was allowing butting which caused the stopping of one bout. A gash in the forehead of one participant was caused when the headguard was worn too far back on the head.

He also made the statement that the headgear caused an increase in hitting power due to the fact that instead of cushioning the blows, it caused a jarring effect. These headguards, designed by Coach DEE PORTAL of San Jose State, if worn properly, will reduce injuries and cause no increase in the hitting power of the boxers.

Portal has the statistics showing the reduction in such injuries. San Jose State, using the headguard again this year, has had 82 competitive bouts and not one has had to be stopped due to eye cuts or injuries. Before this guard was used there was usually between 10-15 bouts a year that had to be stopped due to out eyes.

OC Groaners Meet Spartans

San Francisco's Olympic Club wrestlers, winners of the recent Pacific Coast AAU championships, will clash with Coach Ted Mumby's Spartan matmen at 8 p.m. tonight in the Spartan gym.

The State squad, fresh from a 15-14 decision over Oregon State, will meet their strongest competition of the year in the visitors.

The Clubmen nabbed seven first places in the recent AAU championships, while San Jose could gain but two. Mumby's men, however, were strong in the runnerup and third place spots and finished close behind the Olympic Club with 43 points. The winners scored 50.
